What is in the Scotland Bill for Welfare and Employment?

Timetable

- The timetable for the Scotland Bill is in the hands of the UK Government and the Westminster Parliamentary Authorities.
- Discussed in House of Commons on 30 June.
- It is likely to go to the House of Lords in October / November.
- UK Ministers have said that they are planning to have the Bill through in time for the dissolution of the Scottish Parliament at the end of March.
- Consideration of the Bill will take place in parallel in Scottish Parliament committees before the Parliament is asked to give its legislative consent.

Stakeholder Engagement

- Ensuring a co-ordinated approach to engagement opportunities aligning with other key areas such as Social Justice and Employability to ensure consistent messages are delivered.
- Raising awareness and understanding of new powers in key target groups
- Engaging stakeholders with regular opportunities to feed their views into the process for policy development on new powers
- Developing our understanding of the needs and position of our stakeholders.

Scottish National Context

Welfare Reform Impact

- Cumulative impact of Westminster's welfare reforms up to 2015-16 could result in the Scottish welfare bill reduced by around £6 billion.

(SG Analysis 7 April 14)

Mitigation

£296 million in the period 2013-14 to 2015-16.

In 2015-16 this included:

- £35m for Discretionary Housing Payments
- £23m for the Council Tax Reduction Scheme
- £38m for the Scottish Welfare Fund
- £8m for advice, support and anti-poverty projects

Further developments include:

- LA Support Team
- Emergency Food Fund

Tackling Poverty

The Child Poverty Strategy for Scotland - commitment to tackle the long term drivers of poverty through early intervention and prevention.

The 2014 revision (published 10 March 2014) focuses on

- Maximising household resources,
- Improving children's wellbeing and life chances and provision of well designed, sustainable places.
- Includes full measurement framework against which the progress on the key outcomes will be measured.

Committed to building a Fairer Scotland and reducing inequalities however UK Government welfare cuts have a significant and detrimental impact in Scotland and do nothing to tackle child poverty.

Context for a Scottish Approach

- Mitigation can only achieve so much...
- Welfare reform affects those in and out of work...and is a factor in the growing numbers of people seeking help
- Recognise the link to tackling inequalities/anti-poverty
- Discussions with partners increasingly focus on:
 - Christie principles.
 - Working in partnership.
 - An emphasis on 'assets'.
 - Co-production

Background to Creating a Fairer Scotland

- Tackling Inequalities one of 3 main priorities in Government.
- Tackling inequality goes hand in hand with building strong sustainable economy
- Different approach.
- The Conversation is an opportunity for us to engage widely, seeking views and thoughts from a range of people who may not normally engage with us or have the chance to do so.
- A better understanding of what matters and to help us truly identify what the gaps are and help develop a shared vision of what a Fairer Scotland might look like in 2030.

Why?

- Scotland is a wealthy country yet 1 in 7 people live in poverty.
- We have a high employment rate but in-work poverty is increasing with over half of working age adults in poverty now living in households with at least one adult in employment.
- The gap in pay between men and women has fallen considerably but women still get paid less than men.
- We are living longer healthier lives but those from our most deprived areas live on average 10 years less.
- The number of crimes in Scotland has fallen by almost a quarter since 2008/9 but the risk of being a victim of crime is still higher for adults in our most deprived communities

ACTIVITIES

Phases of work

Phase 1 (June – August): testing the vision and approach; building momentum – Launch, Ministerial and on-line engagement

Phase 2 (September – November): engaging people in the policy-making process through a series of deliberative events, themed digital engagement and community engagement

Phase 3 (December to February): responding to the conversation – Citizen’s Assembly and Civic Scotland’s response to conversation
